MAKE TRAVEL MATTER® TRAVEL CHECKLIST

It's never been more important to travel sustainably. The Travel Corporation and our TreadRight Foundation have created this checklist as a simple way to become a more responsible traveler.

1 PL	ANNING & PACKING	CHOOSING WHO TO GO WITH: DOES YOUR TOUR OPERATOR, AIRLINE,
	Consider traveling during shoulder seasons, or if you can't, then seek out less popular areas	OR ACCOMMODATION HAVE: A commitment to responsible travel
	Fly direct; take-off and landing are the most fuel- intensive portions of the flight	and to minimizing the footprint of their offices and operations through a sustainability strategy with
	Compare flight emissions when booking to select the one with the lowest emissions	measurable and time-bound goals
	Go waste-free, and replace single-use items with reusable water bottles, cutlery, shopping bags,	Annual impact reports that share progress on sustainability goals
	straws, toiletry bottles, shampoo bars, and plastic-free reusable razors	A Climate Action Plan, which is a roadmap to reducing emissions
	Use a UV water bottle or filter to avoid single-use water bottles	Validated science-based targets demonstrate a credible
	Learn local recycling protocols in your destination	commitment to reaching net zero
	Find water refill stations near you: Try the Tap app, or an available alternative in your destination	A non-profit foundation or commitment to philanthropic giving
	Lighter luggage means less fuel emissions. Master the art of carry-on travel:	An Animal Welfare Policy to ensure ethical wildlife experiences
	 Waste-free detergent sheets mean you can wash your clothes on the go 	A Diversity, Equity and Inclusion strategy
	 Switch to these sustainable options: 'Reef-safe' sunscreen that doesn't damage coral reefs Biodegradable dental floss and bamboo toothbrush Solar powered equipment like chargers 	Learn how the The Travel Corporation has all the above covered through our sustainability strategy, which addresses our impact on the planet, its people and wildlife and is anchored to the United

and torches

Nations Global Goals.

MAKE TRAVEL MATTER® TRAVEL CHECKLIST

It's never been more important to travel sustainably. The Travel Corporation and our TreadRight Foundation have created this checklist as a simple way to become a more responsible traveler.

2	GET	TING AROUND —————
		Opt for public transport for lower emissions and options to and from the airport Try out the local bike share program, book a ride
3	SLE	EPING & EATING
	Choose hotels that use renewable energy, and have waste, water conservation, and recycling programs Watch your energy consumption the same way you would at home: Take shorter showers (avoid baths) Turn off all lights, heat/AC, and TV when you leave your room Save on water and energy: extend the use of your towels
		Go meat-free for more environmentally-friendly	dining
		Visit a local farmer's market and meet the growers of your food
4	EXP	ERIENCES THAT MATTER —
		Source dining, shopping and activities that support local communities, especially those owned and operated by under-		Avoid wildlife selfies or close wildlife encounters represented communities. Try a guided tour, with a local expert		Do not touch, walk with, or ride wild animals including elephants, ostriches, and dolphins
		Honor local customs, immerse yourself in the local culture and listen intentionally to local community members		Research wildlife venues and be sure they adhere to reputable animal welfare guidelines
		Avoid any purchase of wildlife products Turn off location GPS when on safari		Find local volunteer efforts you can join